To whom it may concern.

Thrive Landscapes undertook the task of landscaping part of our garden in 2006 and we are delighted with the finished area. They are very tidy workers and kept us informed during each stage of the development of the garden.

The project included removal of several fir trees, a rotten shed, hardcore and levelling the area. The new garden area included a large decking area into the corner of the garden with a pagoda entrance, circular patio and two raised vegetable beds. In-between these were decorative paving stones and pebbles.

We would not hesitate to recommend Steve to perspective clients.
